

On Earth

By: Karas, G. B.
New York: Puffin Books

Written by: Taylor Lee
Sam Houston State University

“At night, we turn away from the sun and see a universe of stars and planets while we dream of what we can do tomorrow.” On Earth is a brilliantly illustrated book that is appropriate for ages four and up. In On Earth, G. Karas details the many changes that happen on Earth such as day and night, and the seasons; in fact, Karas goes into detail about each of these natural phenomena giving the reader a better grasp on the concepts. Short, simple sentences make the book easy to read, and the beautiful illustrations help the reader visualize how day and night and the seasons occur. Overall, this book is highly recommended and should receive five out of five stars.
